

Creating a LANDMARK Template in PBWorks to take into Google Earth

(thank you to Diane Main for the template idea - <http://mcstechnology.pbworks.com/>)

(this does not have to be PBWorks – but for this tutorial, it will be the wiki I will be using To create a wiki at pbworks visit: <https://plans.pbworks.com/signup/edubasic20>)

Paste the following into an empty page on your wiki.

Name:

Address:

Coordinates:

(Image & Source)

Namesake:

Date Founded:

(Interesting Facts paragraph -- don't repeat what you've already said above or below)

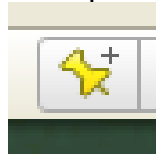

One sentence about its current state (what condition is it in? what is it used for now?)

REMINDER: All sources MUST be cited using Citation Machine 5.0 (MLA format), and all images must be cited with the URL of the image given

Edit as necessary for what you are asking students to share.

Have the students find, type in, cite, and review their information.

Have the students open GOOGLE EARTH and create a placemark for their location.

Have the students navigate back to the wiki and click on SOURCE

Copy all the information they had typed into the wiki – this will include hyperlinks, pictures, videos, etc.

Navigate back to the placemark in Google Earth.

Right mouse click on the placemark and choose properties and Paste in the data.

And click on OK.

Now, when they click on their placemark, they will see the following:

Thomas Jefferson Memorial
